

THE FORTUNE TELLER

Simran Sachdeva (518), Tanishq Dhawan (452),
Devansh Porwal (458), Sai Deepti Alapati (440)

AIM

To build a code that reveals the user's zodiac sign based on the day and month of birth. Based on that it tells the fortunes, characteristic traits and also determines compatibility with other signs.

PROCEDURE

The date of birth of the user is accepted and the zodiac sign is determined by checking the necessary conditions. A list of various options is displayed to pick from, namely About the sign, fortunes, compatibility with other signs, lucky numbers, lucky colors. Based on the user's choice the desired trait for that zodiac sign is displayed. The user can revert back to the previous list if wishes or can exit the code.

ALGORITHM

- 1.) Include stdio.h and stdlib.h packages.*
- 2.) The main() function is declared.*
- 3.) Variables for storing the name, day and month of birth are declared along with other required variables for running the loops.*

- 4.)Name,month and day of birth are accepted from the user.
- 5.)The date of birth is checked in order to find the zodiac sign of the person.
- 6.)The various options to know about the zodiac sign are displayed and the user's choice is accepted.
- 7.)Each option displays the information about that particular character trait of the zodiac sign.
- 8.)The choice to either go again or end the code is accepted.
- 9.)The condition is either continue or not is checked and the task is performed based on it.
- 10.)A greeting is displayed and 0 is returned to the main() function in order to end the code.
